In 1946, Henri JACQUESON founded this estate in Rully, in the North of the Côte chalonaise with a few unplanted plots belonging to his ancestors. Paul Jacqueson came to assist his father in 1972, before handing the business over in 2006 to his daughter Marie who does her best to perpetuate the family expertise and develop the reputation of the Rully appellation. Today, the estate comprises of 18 hectares of vineyards, mainly situated in Rully, Mercurey and Bouzeron. The estate produces 60% of whites and 40% of reds. The vines are cultivated with sustainable agricultural methods and entirely harvested by hand.
