Maison VITTEAUT-ALBERTI was established in 1951 in Rully, a small picturesque village in the Côte Chalonnaise and the birthplace of sparkling wines. Its founders, Lucien Vitteaut and his wife Maria, whose maiden name was Alberti, decided to specialize in sparkling wines produced according to the «traditional method», formerly referred to as the «Champagne method». The family company has continued this specialization for 3 generations. In 1968, their son Gérard, and his wife Danielle, joined the company with the intention of growing the business. 1975 marked a turning point with the creation of the «Crémant de Bourgogne» appellation. As soon as the specifications for this new AOC had been established, Gérard and Danielle decided to plant a vineyard which, with its terroir, grape varieties and growing methods, was specifically intended for the creation of the base wines for the production of «Crémant». They invested in a second more modern winery for optimal control of the vinification. In 2004, grand-daughter, Agnès Vitteaut, took over the family business which today possesses 23 hectares of vineyards
